What principles of personal data processing we adhere to

We are guided by the following principles when processing your Personal Data:

- Obtaining Consent to the Processing of Personal Data. We process your Personal Data only with your consent, which can be withdrawn by you at any time. Consent is deemed to be obtained at the time you complete your registration on our Website after completing the Application form. Registration shall be deemed completed when you click on the "Register" button or similar button located under the last prompt question in the Application form.
- Targeted Data Processing. We limit the processing of your Personal Data to achieve specific, predetermined and legitimate purposes. We do not use your data for other purposes incompatible with those for which it was collected.
- We only process Personal Data that is necessary to achieve the stated purposes of processing.
- Accuracy and Relevance. We take care to ensure that your Personal Data is accurate and up-to-date for the purposes for which it is processed. If data is incomplete or inaccurate, we take the necessary steps to clarify or delete it.
- Destruction. Your Personal Data will be destroyed when the purposes of its processing have been achieved or when there is no need for its further use.

We strive to ensure the protection and confidentiality of your Personal Data in accordance with these principles and applicable Personal Data protection legislation. If you have any questions regarding the processing of your data, you can always contact us for further information.

We do not verify the accuracy of the information about your Personal Data that you provide when completing Applications on our Website. We also do not verify that this Personal Data belongs to you directly, you provide it as your own. We assume that you provide us with your Personal Data in your own interest and have no intention to violate the rights and legitimate interests of others, our rights or cause them/us losses.

To collect, record, organize, accumulate, store, clarify (update, modify) and retrieve your Personal Data, we use databases that are located in the United States. This may be necessary to ensure efficient Processing of your data and fulfill the stated purposes of the Processing.

We endeavor to ensure the security and confidentiality of your Personal Data and to comply with all relevant regulations and laws related to the protection of Personal Data. If you have any questions or require further information regarding the processing of your data, do not hesitate to contact us. We are here to help and provide you with the support you need.

What information we receive from you

We collect various data about you and other users in accordance with the Policy and our objectives. This data may include personal information about users, as well as technical and other information related to their activities on our Website.

Technical information, such as cookies, helps us identify you and other users. Cookies are text files that we use to Process data about how users interact with our Website, Platform and Account. For example, we may know which pages have been visited, how much time you or another user has spent on a page, or what services have been ordered. If you wish, you can disable the use of cookies in your browser settings. The Cookies Policy contains more detailed information about their processing.

Technical information also includes information that is automatically transmitted to us when you use our Website, Platform and/or Account through the software on your device. Such information includes:

- Internet activity data, such as pages visited, date and time of url visits, etc.
- Information about the device and browser you use to access the Internet, including ip address and device type.
- Data about interactions with advertisements we display outside our Website, such as number of views, frequency and depth of views.

We use third-party user location software (maxmind.com), web analytics (Google Analytics) and end-to-end business analytics (Roistat) to obtain additional information about user interactions with our services.

The collection of anonymized data using third-party software is determined by the copyright holders of such software. We do not control this process and have no direct influence on the composition and conditions of such anonymized data collection.

We process Personal Data, technical information and other information of Customers (Clients) for the duration of the agreement between them and us. For other users who are not Customers (Clients), we process their Personal Data for the duration of their use of our Website and our other resources.

When using our Website, Platform and/or Account, third party software may be used. As a result of such use, your data may be provided and transferred to third parties in an anonymized form. This means that the transmitted data cannot be used to identify specific individuals and will remain anonymous.

What we do with your Personal Data

Processing of your Personal Data includes such activities as recording, systematization, accumulation, storage, clarification (updating, modification), retrieval, use, transfer (dissemination, provision, access), depersonalization, blocking, deletion and destruction of your Personal Data. This applies to data for the processing of which we need to obtain your written consent.

By registering, authorizing and using our Website, Platform and Account, as well as filling out Applications (Questionnaires), you consent to the processing of your Personal Data. This data may be transferred to third parties as part of our agreement with you (if you are a Customer or Client) or for the implementation of partnership programs with such third parties, even if such transfer of data takes place outside the United States, Mexico or the European Union (the place of storage of personal data), to the territory of other countries (cross-border transfer).

We process your Personal Data with or without the use of automation tools.

Please note that your Personal Data is processed by us in the United States, to which you consent.

Our information systems Process Personal Data of the following categories of data subjects:

- our employees;
- our Customers (Clients);
- performers, contractors and other third parties who provide services and/or carry out work commissioned by us;
- participants of the events we organize;

- subscribers to our newsletter;
- media partners, invited guests and presenters at events we organize.

This Policy applies to all processes related to Personal Data Processing, including collection, recording, systematization, accumulation, storage, clarification, extraction, use, transfer, depersonalization, blocking, deletion and destruction of data. These processes may be carried out with or without the use of automation tools.

By using our Website and the GetCourse Platform and other resources provided by us, you unconditionally consent to our Personal Data Processing Policy and Terms. You may also agree to this Policy by subscribing to our mailing lists or by providing us with written consent to the Processing of Personal Data.

Our Website is not directed to people who are under the age of eighteen (18) in the European Union (depending on jurisdiction) and Mexico, or sixteen (16) in the United States under local law. We do not collect information from such people. If you are under these ages, you should not provide us with any personal information on or through the Website.

We do not knowingly collect information from children under the age of thirteen (13). If we inadvertently receive personal information from a child under the age of thirteen (13) without parental consent, we will delete that information immediately.

If you have reason to believe that we have Personal Information from a child under the age of thirteen (13), please contact us at support@bbooster.online.

We use the Personal Data and information you provide to us solely for the following purposes:

- To fulfill our obligations to you if you are our Customer (Client) and use our Website, Platform, Account, and materials and other intellectual resources in obtaining our Services.
- Establishing and maintaining communications with you.
- Sending you communications of an informational and other nature to your email address.
- Improving the quality of service and upgrading our Website, Platform and Account.
- Registering you on the Website, Platform and Account and helping you manage your Account.

- Administering justice when requested by authorized authorities.
- Implementation of partnership programs with third parties.
- Complying with legal requirements.
- Notifying you about the services we provide and how we provide them.
- Analyzing the results you have achieved by using our Services.
- Contacting you to clarify your intention to purchase our Services, information about which is provided on the Website.
- Contracting with you to provide our Services, including invoicing, notices and information related to the provision of the Services.
- Processing your inquiries and Applications submitted to us.
- Developing and adjusting our marketing policy to suit your preferences based on your location and job role.

We aim to use your Personal Data only for the purposes set out in this section and within the law to ensure that your privacy and data security are protected.

We do not verify the accuracy of the Personal Data you provide or your capacity to act.

Here is a list of your Personal Data that we process:

- Last name, first name, middle name;
- E-mail address;
- Contact phone number;
- Messaging accounts;
- Links to social media profiles (pages);

- Your image (photograph);

- Additional information that you provide to us through the Website, Platform, Application, Account and in the course of providing Services within the framework of Service Packages.

This information enables us to contact you, to provide you with our services and to improve our service and meet your needs. We process this information in compliance with applicable Personal Data legislation and with your consent, including where required. We always strive to keep your Personal Data secure and confidential and only use it for the purposes set out in this Policy.

Our rights in relation to the Personal Data you have provided to us

We may conduct statistical and research studies based on your anonymized Personal Data. We may also provide access to these studies to third parties for advertising targeting. When you submit an Application on the Website, register on the Platform or create a Personal Account, you consent to the transfer, processing, storage, and other operations with your Personal Data, including such research and receipt of targeted advertising. However, you may withdraw this consent at any time by contacting us at the address listed on the Website.

We may disclose information about you to law enforcement or other government agencies as part of a legal process or investigation pursuant to a court order, an enforceable request, or as part of a cooperative effort under applicable law.

We may share information about you with third parties to detect and combat fraudulent activity, technical problems or security issues.

We may provide access to your Personal Data to other Website and Platform users, webinar participants, online and offline events, if such transfer is necessary to fulfill our obligations to other users or to you under agreements entered into, including in anonymized form.

We may set requirements for mandatory information (Personal Data) that you need to provide in order to use the Website, Platform and/or Account. However, if certain information is not labeled as mandatory, its provision or disclosure is at your discretion.

We retain your Personal Data only for the time necessary to fulfill the purposes of the Personal Data Processing. The retention period for Personal Data may be prescribed by law or provided for by your consent provided to us. After the expiry of the retention periods, your Personal Data will be destroyed or anonymized.

In accordance with the purposes of processing and legal requirements, we may transfer Personal Data to the following categories of third parties:

- our subsidiaries and companies within our group of companies;
- to our external contractors and companies with whom we have contracts;
- governmental and other authorities as required by law.

The transfer of Personal Data to the territory of foreign countries that do not provide an adequate level of protection of your rights (countries that are not signatories to the Convention for the Protection of Individuals with regard to Automatic Processing of Personal Data ETS No. 108) may only take place with your consent and/or for the performance of a contract and/or in accordance with legal requirements.

For transfers of Personal Data received from the European Union to third parties in countries that do not provide an adequate level of protection for Personal Data under the GDPR, contracts containing "Standard Contractual Clauses" (SCC) adopted by the European Commission or a competent authority and approved by the European Commission are concluded with the relevant third parties to ensure that your rights and freedoms are respected.

To obtain information about the list of third parties to whom your Personal Data is transferred and copies of the standard contractual clauses used in such contracts, you should contact us. We are obliged to provide you with this information upon your request.

What rights you have in relation to the Personal Data you share with us

Please familiarize yourself with the following rights:

- When you post information about yourself on our Website, Platform, Application (Questionnaire), or My Account, you may make it publicly available. Please understand that such information may be detected by search engines and may involve risks of disclosure of personal, family and other confidential information.
- You have the right to delete or modify the information you provide at any time. You can do so by taking the necessary actions on our Website, Platform and in My Account, or, if you cannot do so, by contacting us at support@bbooster.online. Please note, however, that in some cases we may continue to use your Personal Data where permitted by law.

- You have the right to request confirmation that we are processing your personal information. If processing does take place, you have the right to review your Personal Data and to obtain information about the purposes of the processing, the categories of data processed, the actions taken with the data, the recipients and safeguards for the transfer of the data to third parties, the processing timeframe, the sources of the data and the application of automated processing to your data. You also have the right to obtain a list of the Personal Data we process.

- If we use your consent as a basis for processing your Personal Data, you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time. Each consent to processing that you provide to us sets out the procedure for withdrawing consent. If you wish to withdraw any of the consents we have provided, you may use the provided procedure set out in such consent.

- You have the right to request that your Personal Data be corrected if you find errors or inaccuracies in it. For this purpose, you may make changes to your Personal Information, taking into account the purposes for which it is processed.

You also have the right to initiate the restriction of processing of all or part of your Personal Data in the following cases:

- If you believe that the data contains inaccuracies, we will temporarily restrict the processing to confirm its correctness.

- If you discover that your data is being improperly processed and would prefer to restrict its use instead of deleting it.

- If we no longer need your Personal Data but you may need it to protect your rights in legal claims, lawsuits or proceedings.

If you object to the processing of your data, we will temporarily restrict the processing to determine whether our legitimate grounds for this processing override your grounds of objection.

You may request the deletion of your Personal Data from our systems and/or other material sources if one of the following conditions is met:

- Your Personal Data is no longer needed for the purposes for which it was collected.

- You withdraw your consent to the processing of your data and there is no other lawful basis for the processing.

- You object to the processing of your data and we have no lawful basis for further processing of your data.
- The processing of the data is unlawful.

Data deletion is required to comply with our legal obligation under statutory requirements.

If you were a minor under the age of 16 (or other age under the applicable laws of your country) at the time your Personal Data was collected and the data was not collected with the consent of your legal representative for the purpose of providing services over the Internet. Further details can be found in the section on what we do with your Personal Data.

- You have the right to request a list of your Personal Data provided by us for processing in a structured, universal and machine-readable format. You may also instruct us to transfer this list to a third party if we have the appropriate technical capability to do so. It is important to note that if we transfer Personal Data to a third party in this way, we are not responsible for any actions that the third party may take with your Personal Data in the future.

-You have the right to object to the processing of some or all of your Personal Data if the processing is carried out for the purposes specified when you provided it to us. However, there are cases where our legitimate grounds for processing may override your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing is necessary to justify or contest legal claims.

You have the right to request that we restrict the processing of your Personal Data for the purposes of marketing activities on our part.

In the event that we violate your rights in any way with regard to the Processing of Personal Data, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority responsible for data control and protection.

We are committed to respecting your rights and ensuring that your Personal Data is processed securely and responsibly. If you have any questions or queries about this, please contact us at support@bbooster.online. We are always available to assist you.

When we start processing your Personal Data. Period of your consent to the processing of Personal Data

We begin processing your Personal Data as soon as we receive your consent to do so. This processing continues until your consent expires or you withdraw it.

The validity of your consent to the Processing of Personal Data is indefinite and begins when we obtain your consent when you complete an Application on the Website or otherwise explicitly.

If you decide to withdraw your consent to the Processing of Personal Data, you may do so at any time. To do so, you must send a personal statement to us at support@bbooster.online. As soon as we receive your application, the processing of your Personal Data will cease immediately and all your Personal Data will be destroyed.

What's with the privacy?

We will keep your Personal Data confidential and will not disclose it to third parties without your consent, except to the extent such disclosure is required by applicable law.

Protecting your Personal Data

We take necessary and sufficient legal, organizational and technical measures to ensure the protection of the Personal Data you provide to us. This allows us to protect your data from unauthorized or accidental access, destruction, modification, blocking, copying, distribution and other unauthorized actions of third parties.

To do this, we restrict access to your information to other users of the Website and Platform, our employees and partners, except where providing such information is necessary to fulfill our obligations to you or as required by law.

We also ensure that your submitted information, including Personal Data, is not combined with third party statistics. We use your information only for internal statistics and do not disclose it to third parties except as set out in our Policy.

It is important to note that we do not sell or transfer your information to individual third parties. Such information may only be transferred when we partially or completely reorganize our company.

We take technical and organizational measures to enable you to access and edit your submitted Personal Information as necessary.

If we discover unlawful processing of your Personal Data, whether by us or by a person acting on our behalf, we are obliged to immediately stop such unlawful processing. If the lawfulness of the processing becomes impossible, we are obliged to destroy your Personal Data. We take all of these measures in accordance with the law and as part of our obligations to you.

We take the following steps to protect your Personal Data:

- We ensure the safety of the carriers of Personal Data.
- We identify and authenticate all users of our information system (Website) and access objects.
- We determine the list of persons who are granted access to your Personal Data as part of their job duties.
- Appoint a person responsible for ensuring the security of Personal Data in the information system.
- Manage the user accounts of our information system (Website) and apply measures to differentiate user access rights.
- We apply anti-virus protection of the information system with Personal Data.
- We conduct periodic inspections of the conditions of Personal Data Processing.
- We organize training of users of our information system (Website) through briefings, especially those who have permanent or temporary access to your Personal Data.

Please note the following points:

- The Website, Platform, and Account are not publicly available sources of Personal Data. However, through certain actions by you or others, your Personal Data may become available to an unspecified number of people, and you consent to this.
- We may send newsletters and promotional materials to the email address and contact phone number you provide when you register on the Website, Platform and/or in your Account or complete an Application. You consent to such sending, however, you also have the right to opt-out of informational or marketing mailings.

- We are not responsible for the use of your Personal Data by third parties with whom you interact when using the Website, Platform and/or Account.

If you have reason to believe that your interaction with us is no longer secure, for example, if you suspect that the security of your account has been compromised or your credentials are no longer secure, please notify us immediately.

To do so, you can send an email to support@bbooster.online. We take such communications very seriously and respond immediately to any suspicions or concerns about the security of your Personal Data and Accounts.

Our staff will take the necessary steps to review the situation and ensure the security of your data. Your safety and the protection of your Personal Data is our priority, and we do everything we can to keep it safe and secure.

Notification of Cookie Usage

Cookies are used on our Website. Please be aware that Cookies are not Personal Data as they are non-personal information.

We collect and store the IP address, domain name, browser type and operating system used on your device when you visit our Website. This information is collected in a depersonalized form and is used to maintain traffic statistics. We analyze this information to promptly identify and correct technical problems with our Website.

Cookies allow us to improve your experience with the Website by providing you with more convenient features and personalized content. However, please remember that you can change your browser settings at any time to opt out of cookies or to receive notifications when they are sent.

We value your privacy and are committed to keeping your data as secure as possible. For more information on how we use Cookies, please see our Cookies Policy. If you have any questions or require further information, please contact us at support@bbooster.online.

Important information for residents of the State of California (USA)

In compliance with the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA), we provide the following information about the categories of Personal Data we collect, use, and disclose about California residents and their rights.

During the past 12 months, we collected the following categories of Personal Data in accordance with the CCPA:

Category A: Identifiers such as name, contact information, IP address, and other online identifiers.

Category B: Personal Information as defined in the California Customer Records Act, such as name, contact information, medical information, insurance information, education information, employment information, and government-issued identification numbers.

Category C: Characteristics of protected classifications under California or U.S. federal law, such as age, sex, disability status, primary language, race, citizenship, and marital status.

Category D: Commercial information such as transaction information and purchase history.

Category E: Internet or online activity information, such as browsing history and Website interactions.

Category F: Audio, electronic, visual and similar information, such as photographs or audio and video recordings created in connection with our business activities.

Category G: Inferences drawn from any of the Personal Data listed above to create a profile, such as an individual's preferences and abilities.

If you are a California resident, you have certain rights with respect to your Personal Data, such as the right to access your data, the right to erasure, the right to block the transfer of your data to third parties, and others. You can read your rights in this Policy.

Sometimes our actions may be considered a "sale" of Personal Data under the CCPA, Data Categories A, B, C, E, F, G. This term is broadly interpreted to include the transfer of Personal Data to third parties who are not service providers or acting at your direction. We do not sell your Personal Data; sharing information from publicly available public records is not considered a "sale" of Personal Data. In addition, in some cases, we may share your Personal Information with our subsidiaries or contractors for limited purposes.

We are committed to protecting your privacy and ensuring that we have complete control over your data. If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact us at support@bbooster.online.

In accordance with the CCPA, we have disclosed the following categories of Personal Data listed in the law to third parties for our operational business purposes as outlined in this Policy within the preceding 12 months:

Category A: Identifiers such as name, contact information, IP address and other online identifiers.

Category B: Personal information as defined in the California Customer Records Act, such as name, contact information, education information, medical information, insurance information, employment information, and state-issued identification numbers.

Category C: Characteristics of protected classifications under California or federal law, such as age, sex, disability status, primary language, race, citizenship, and marital status.

Category D: Commercial information, such as transaction information and purchase history.

Category E: Internet or online activity information, such as browsing history and interactions with our Website.

Category F: Audio, electronic, visual and similar information such as calls and videos.

Category G: Inferences drawn from any of the Personal Information listed above to create a profile, such as an individual's preferences and abilities.

Information about the third parties to whom these categories of Personal Data are shared can be found in the section on our rights in relation to your Personal Data.

We strive to be transparent about the collection and use of your data and provide this information in accordance with the CCPA so that you can make informed decisions about your Personal Data. If you have any questions or need further clarification, please contact us at support@bbooster.online.

If you are a California resident, you have certain rights with respect to your Personal Data under the CCPA:

You may request information from us about the categories of Personal Data we have collected about you and the source categories from which that data was obtained.

You may also request specific portions of your Personal Data that we have collected and the business or commercial purpose for collecting that data, if such information is applicable.

You have the right to request information about the categories of Personal Data that we have shared or disclosed with other parties and the categories of third parties to whom that data has been shared or transferred, if any.

You may request the deletion of your Personal Data (personal information) that has been collected by us. To do so, you must send your request to support@bbooster.online and we will verify the request, which may require you to confirm that you have control over the email address associated with your Personal Data and confirm that it is you who is actually interacting with us. If necessary, we may ask for additional information to verify your request, and if you are making a request on someone else's behalf, additional confirmation may be required.

In addition, you have the right to opt out of having your Personal Data (personal information) "sold" to third parties and to limit the use of your "sensitive personal information" (as defined in the CCPA) for behavioral advertising purposes. The right to opt-out has certain exceptions, for example, it does not apply to sharing information with vendors who provide the services we need. An opt-out request will not affect our business operations unless there is a "sale" of your Personal Data.

To exercise your rights, you may send an email to support@bbooster.online and inform us of your intention to opt out of the sale or sharing of your Personal Data or to limit the use of your "sensitive personal information."

We are committed to responding to requests under the CCPA within 45 days, but this period may be extended to 90 days if operationally necessary.

It is important to note that you have the right to be free from unlawful discrimination in the exercise of your rights under the CCPA. This means that we cannot refuse to provide services to you or change the terms of service because of your request to protect your Personal Information.

CalOPPA (California Online Privacy Protection Act) is a law that requires us to post this Policy on our Website.

We do not support the "Do Not Track" ("DNT") feature, which allows users to set a preference in their web browser so that their online activities are not tracked by third parties, including Internet services.

It is important to note that the provisions of this section apply only to residents of the State of California and shall prevail in the event of a conflict with other provisions of the Policy.

Important information for EU and EEA residents

If you are a resident of the European Union (European Economic Area), you have certain data protection rights under the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679 (GDPR). The GDPR applies to these Terms.

To find out what Personal Data we hold about you, to request erasure or to exercise other rights under this section, you may email support@bbooster.online to make a request.

You are granted the following rights to protect your Personal Data:

- The right to access, update or delete your Personal Data. You may request access to, update information about, or erasure of your Personal Data in accordance with this section.
- Right to rectification. If your Personal Data is incomplete or inaccurate, you have the right to have it corrected.
- Right to object. You may object to our processing of your Personal Data.
- Right to restriction. You may request that we restrict our processing of your Personal Data.
- Right to data portability. You may receive a copy of your Personal Data that we hold about you in a structured, machine-readable and commonly used format.
- Right to withdraw consent. You may withdraw your consent to the processing of your Personal Data at any time. We will no longer have the right to continue to process your Personal Data based on the consent you have previously provided.
- The right not to be subject to automated decision-making, including profiling. This right allows you not to be subject to automated decision-making that could significantly affect you.

- The right to lodge a complaint with the European Union supervisory authority (or your country's supervisory authority). If you believe that we are violating your rights in relation to the collection and use of your data, you have the right to lodge a complaint with your country's data protection authority.

We are committed to complying with the GDPR and respecting your data protection rights by enabling you to exercise those rights with respect to your Personal Data.

Under this Policy and this section, you agree that we have the right to request verification of your identity before responding to requests related to the exercise of your rights. This may be necessary to ensure the security and protection of your data and to prevent unauthorized access to your personal information.

The provisions of this section of the Policy apply solely to you if you are a citizen of the European Union (European Economic Area) and shall override (and supersede) the provisions of other sections of this Policy where there is a conflict.

Important information for residents of the United Mexican States

We are the data controller of your Personal Data and are responsible for the processing of Personal Data that is subject to the Federal Law on the Protection of Personal Data held by Individuals of 05.07.2010 (Ley Federal de Protección de Datos Personales en Posesión de los Particulares, LFPDPPP) hereinafter referred to as the Law.

We use your Personal Data in accordance with the purposes set out in this Policy. All of these purposes, with the exception of marketing purposes, are necessary to maintain the relationship between you and us. If you wish to opt out of receiving marketing communications from us, you can email us at support@bbooster.online to have your contact information removed from our marketing databases.

We transfer your Personal Data to third parties as described in this Policy, both within and outside of Mexico. For such transfers of Personal Data, we have obtained your consent or your consent is not required, except for transfers of Personal Data in the event of a merger, consolidation or sale of our assets or our affiliates. In the event of a merger, consolidation or sale of assets, we will transfer your Personal Data to. Successor Company. Your use of the Services/Service Packages constitutes your consent to such transfer. If you do not consent to such transfer of Personal Data, you may email us at support@bbooster.online.

ARCO's Rights. We are required to respond to requests related to your exercise of ARCO rights within 20 business days of receiving your request. If necessary and in accordance with the Act, this timeframe may be extended to 40 business days. Our response is provided electronically to your e-mail address that was provided in the request.

When we grant your request to access, correct, or delete Personal Data, we take the appropriate action as requested within the timeframes specified in the Act. We also inform you of the implementation of actions related to the exercise of your ARCO rights.

In the event that we cannot fulfill your request, we will provide you with a reasoned notice of the reasons for refusing to access, correct or delete Personal Data.

We will not require you to provide payment for your exercise of your ARCO rights, except as required by the Act, when your requests are excessive or repetitive. In such cases, we may establish a reasonable fee in accordance with the Act.

If we need additional information from you under this section to verify your identity or to understand what information you intend to access, correct, cancel or object to, we may request additional documents from you within 5 days after we receive your request. You will have 10 days to respond to our additional request, beginning on the day following the day we receive it. If you do not respond within this period, your request will be deemed not received. We will provide an email response within 20 days of receipt of your request or additional information, if applicable. We will fulfill your request within 15 days of receiving all required documents.

You have the right to withdraw your consent to the Processing of Personal Data if we process your data based on your consent. To do so, you send your request by email to: support@bbooster.online marked "Withdrawal of consent" and a brief statement of your request. If you withdraw your consent to the processing of Personal Data, your ability to use the Services/Service Packs, Personal Area, Website or Platform may be restricted.

We will respond to your requests in accordance with the applicable laws of the United Mexican States and the Act. We may refuse to process your requests if they could jeopardize the privacy of others or our intellectual property.

The provisions of this section apply only to citizens of the United Mexican States and shall override (and supersede) the provisions of other sections of this Policy to the extent there is a conflict.

Final provisions

We expressly reserve the right to make changes to this Policy. You should read the current text of the Policy each time you access our Services (Service Packages), Website, Platform and/or Account.

The new version of the Policy comes into effect from the moment it is posted on the Website. If you continue to use our Services/Packages of Services, Website, Platform and/or Account after the new version of the Policy has been posted, it means that you fully accept the updated version of the Policy and its terms.

If you do not agree to the terms of the Policy, please do not continue to use our Services/Service Packages, Website, Platform and Account.
